Section A - Reading (20 marks)

A1. Read the passage carefully.

(5 marks)

Punjab is a state in the northwestern part of India. Rich in culture and heritage, Punjab is also known for the unique designs of water tanks in its rural areas. You may see tanks shaped like a giant flower, a large football, a brown rooster, a statue or even an aeroplane. People carefully plan the design of their water tanks. Every tank tells us something about the people of the house. For example, if the owner of the house is a farmer, the water tank may be in the shape of a tractor or a bullock cart or even a rooster. If the owner likes football, the water tank of the house may be shaped like a football. All these tanks are made of cement. The frame of the water tank is made using steel rods. Later, concrete is used to give it final shape. Then it is installed on the roof of the house. The final product is a unique tank that can hold hundreds of litres of water. These unique water tanks are the heart of the communities in rural Punjab.

A1.1 Answer the following questions.

(a) Where is Punjab located on the map of India?

(b) Why do families in Punjab design tanks in different shapes?

- (i) To play with them (ii) To show their hobbies and work
- (iii) To fly them like kites (iv) To use as houses

SECTION-G HANDWRITING (5MARKS)

G.1 Read the passage carefully and copy it in neat handwriting.

Honest people are respected and trusted upon because they are known to stand by their truth. Without honesty, the world would be a bad and sad place to live in. That's why we need to always tell the truth. People who constantly lie not only lose their friends but their reputation since no one likes associating with dishonest characters. It's important to always tell the truth because this way we will lead a good and upright life. If all of us stay away from these acts, the world can be a better place where we all live in harmony.
